About us:

Contexta360 is a double-digit growth company based in Amsterdam. We are a team of highly skilled software developers and computer scientists with a passion for artificial intelligence, speech2text, and natural language understanding.

Contexta is transforming the visibility and insights of customer voice interactions. Organizations cannot accurately, digitally and automatically capture their voice interactions with their customers. This leaves them exposed to compliance issues, a competitive disadvantage in sales or service scenarios or overwhelmed with data and workload.

We not only have one of the world's most accurate speech-to-text platforms but critically core technology in A.I. allowing us to mine, detect and react to key customer interaction questions, sentiment, compliance or sales/service situations. We have offices throughout Europe and are expanding into the USA markets within the next 12 months.
